

You might ready for it, sir. My squad man was strangle to death by the fugitive who were in devious plaincloths. They are transparent felons.

If they are not unoffending, we need some stipulations. Because we Japanese are modern army !

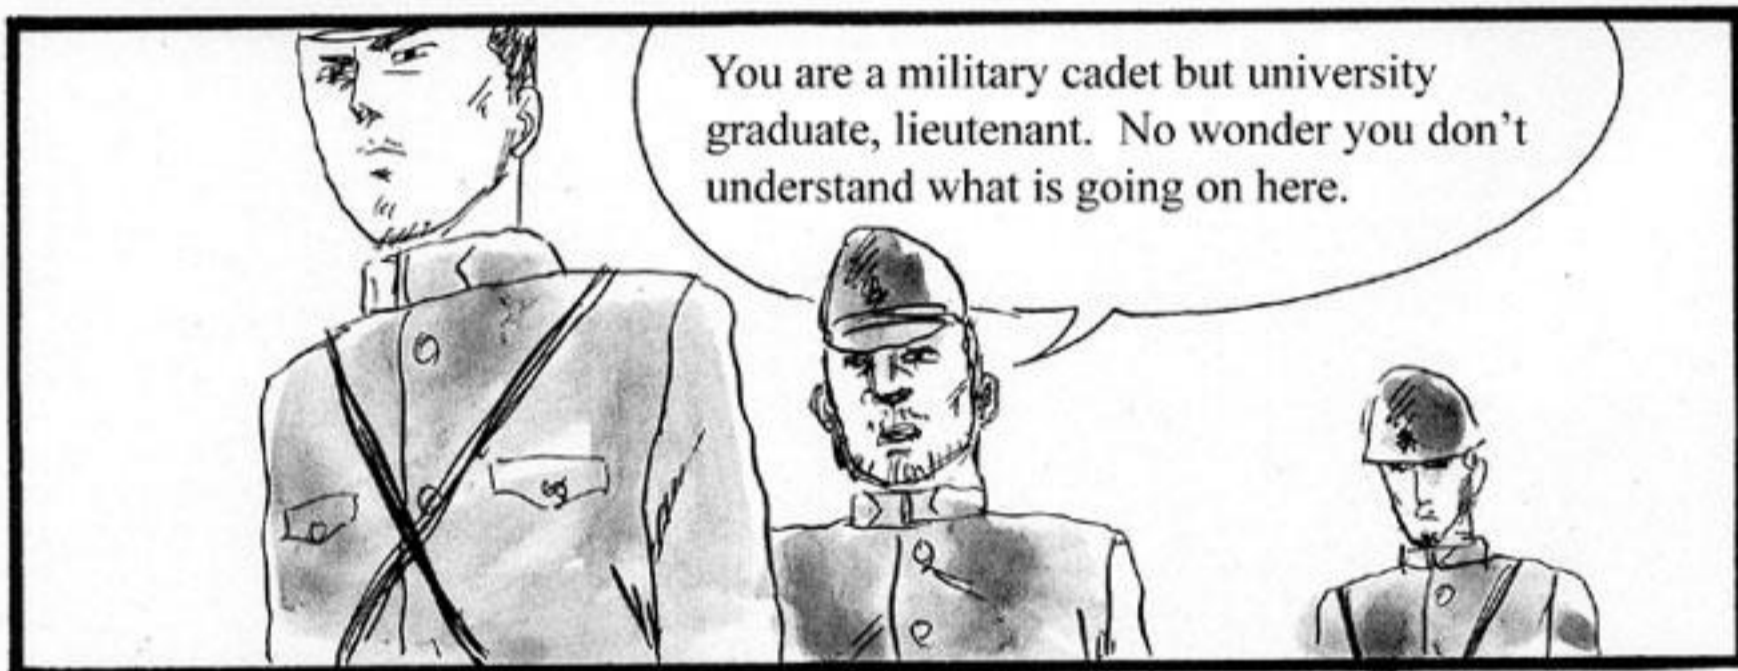

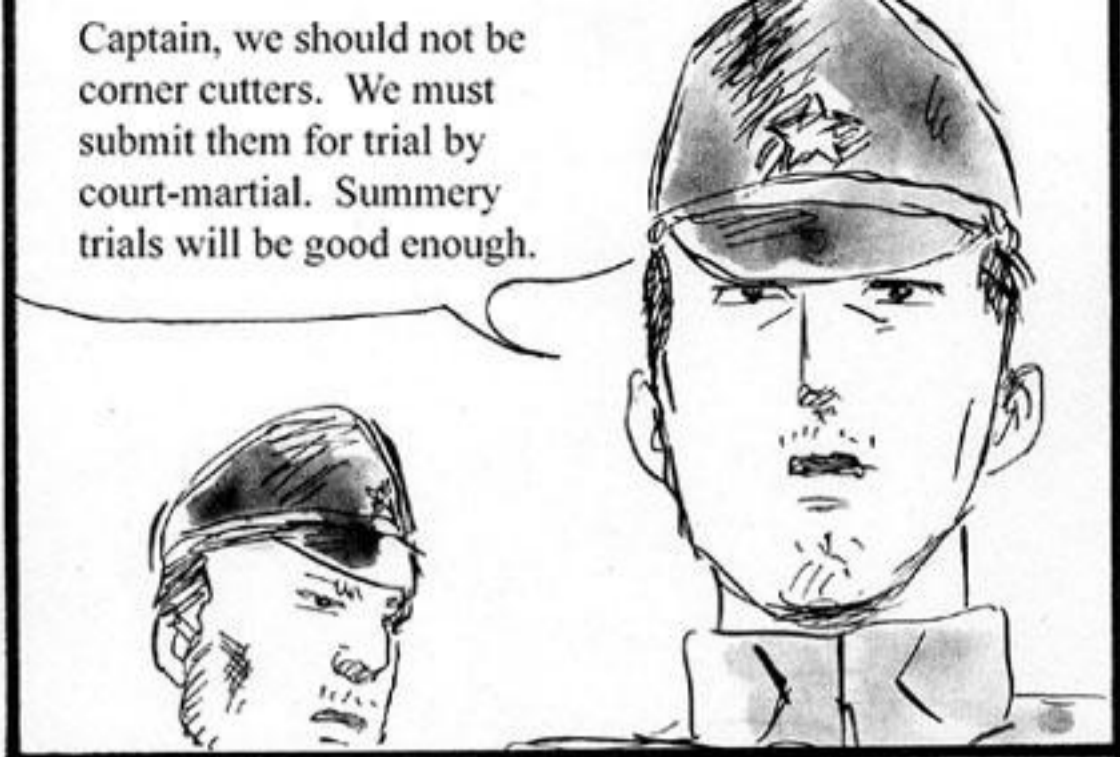

Don't split hairs. Nanking is not a naked city, but a big fortress. And here are the liquid and running battles in progress at the every blocks of the city. Blame on 'em, not us. They will not provid a temporary respite.

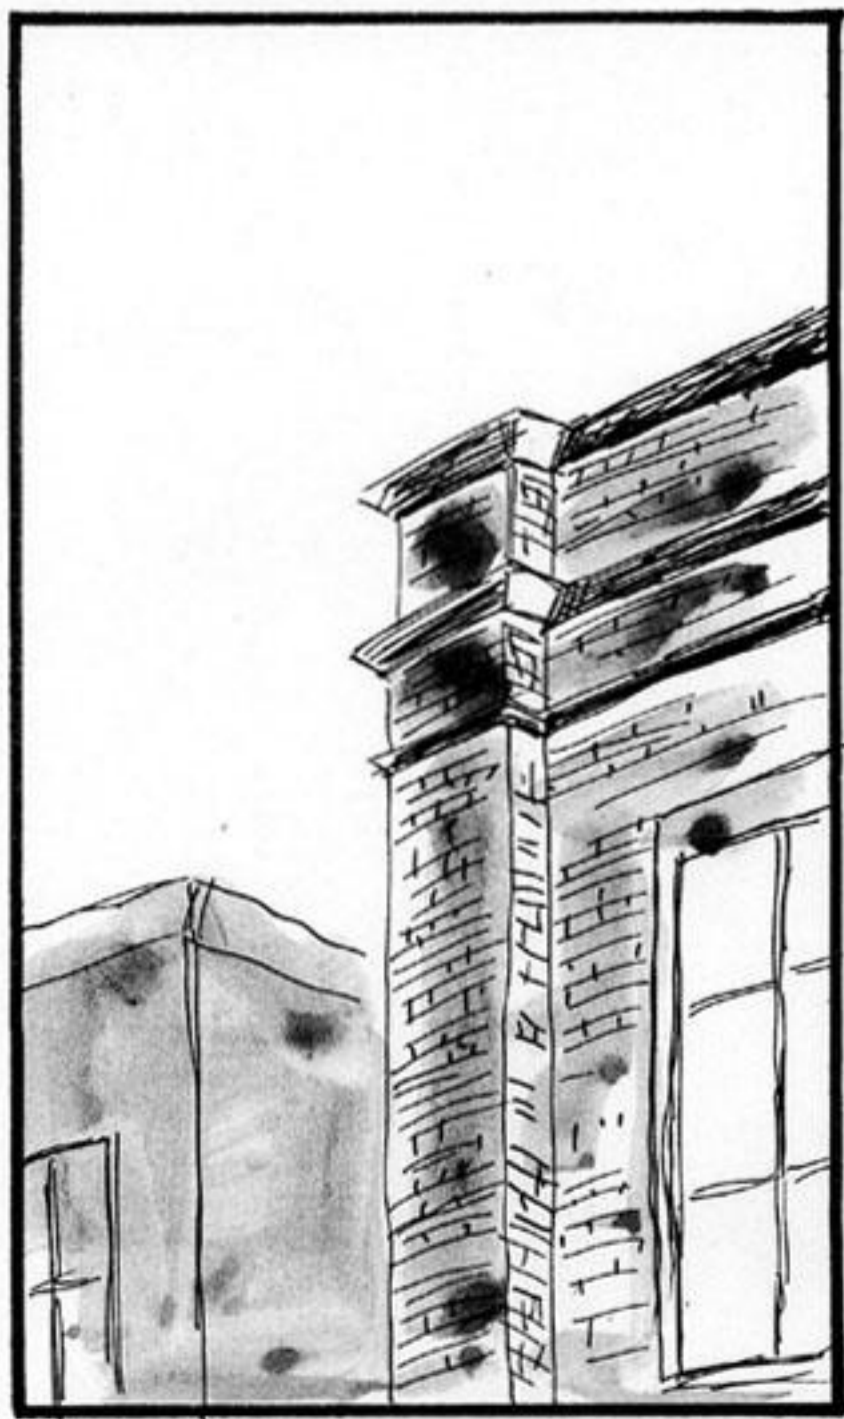

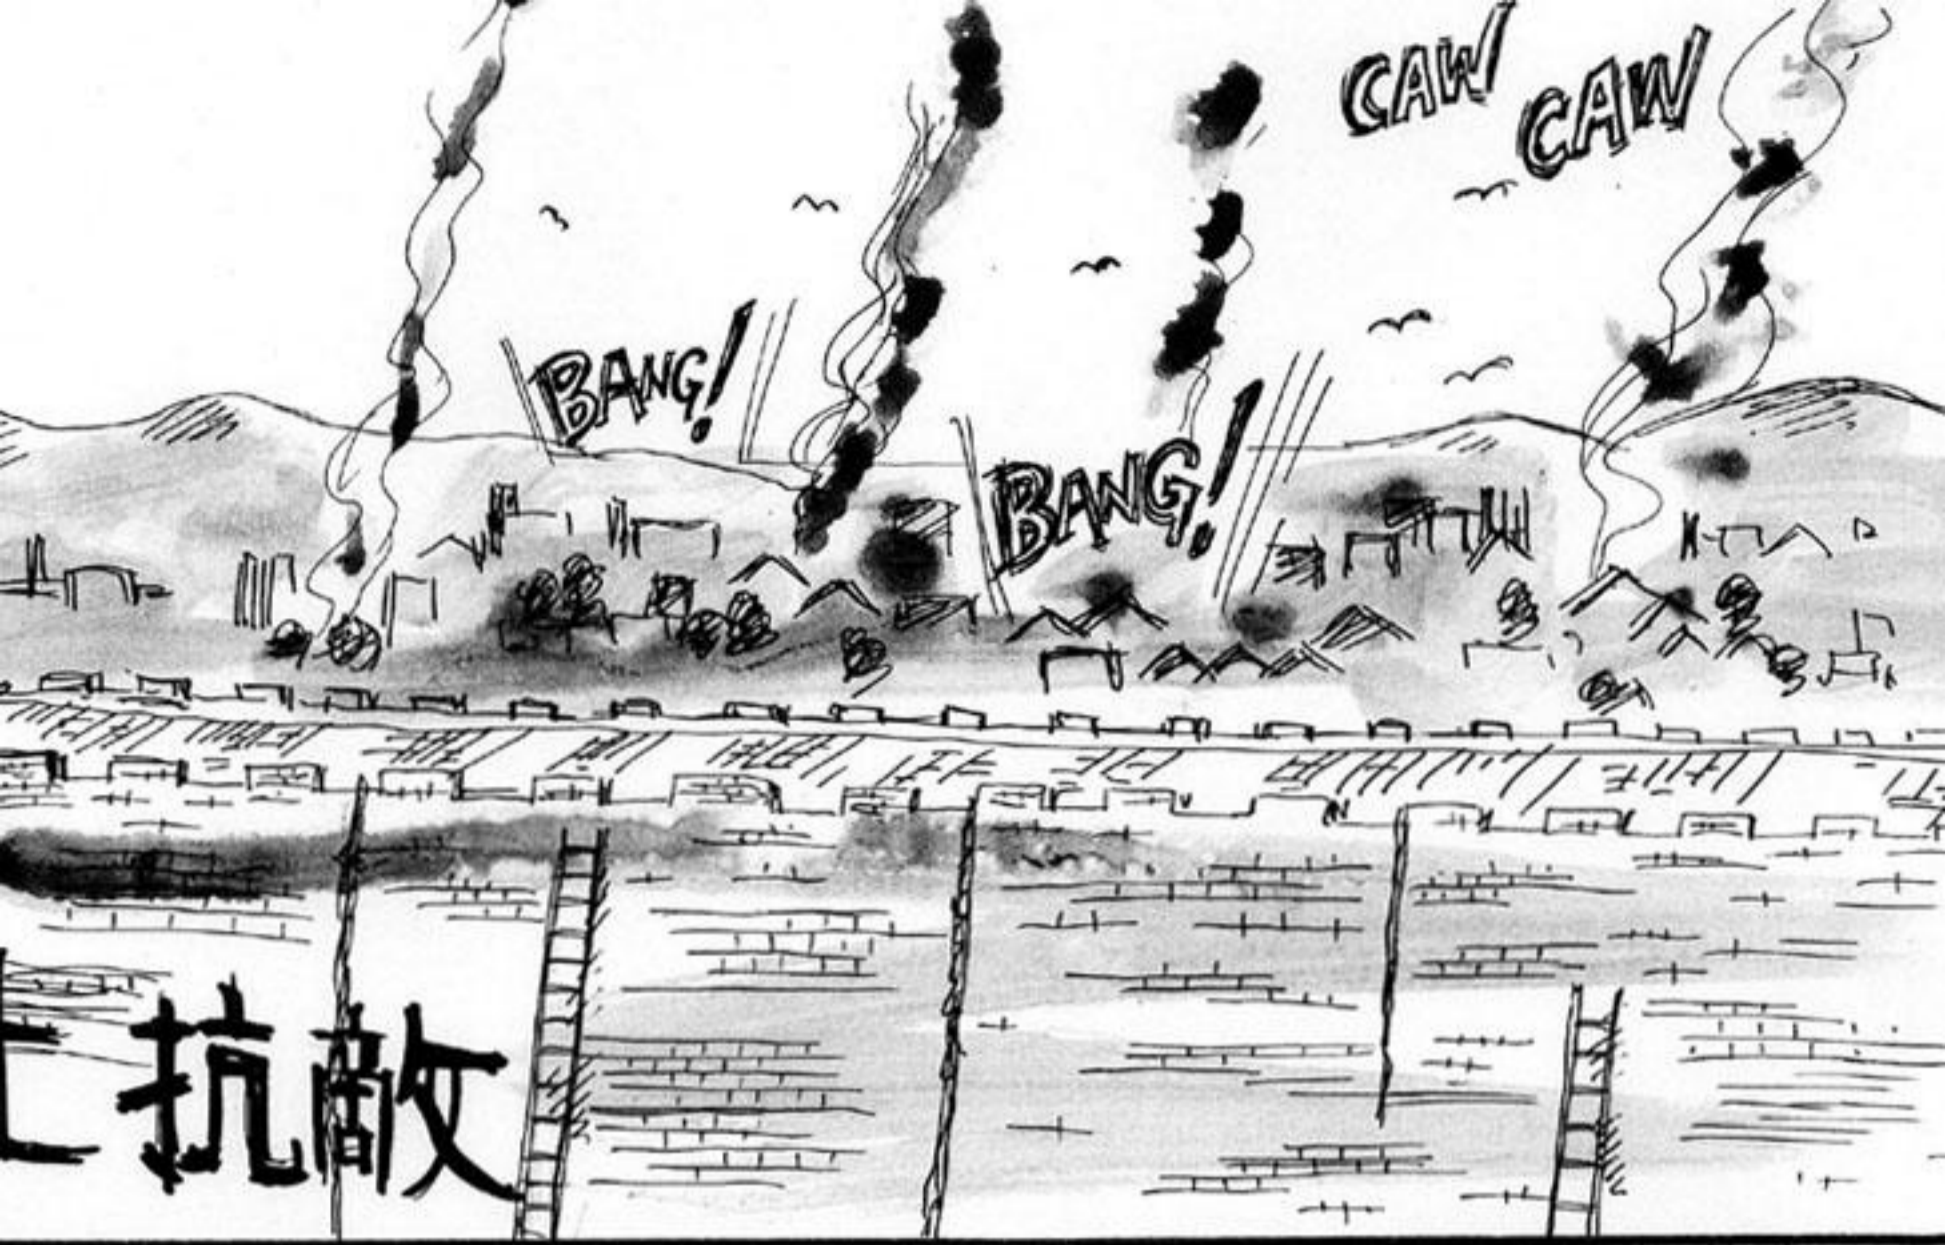

Captain, we should not be corner cutters. We must submit them for trial by court-martial. Summery trials will be good enough.

You are a military cadet but university graduate, lieutenant. No wonder you don't understand what is going on here.

This continent has not been modern, and is not modern, and won't become modern. Never. China-men corrode every modern customs which they touch. I hope we could break out of the root of all evill. Don't you think so, son ?

No telephone line. No electricity.
Why Japs repara them in 3 days ?
I hate to receive pink slips.

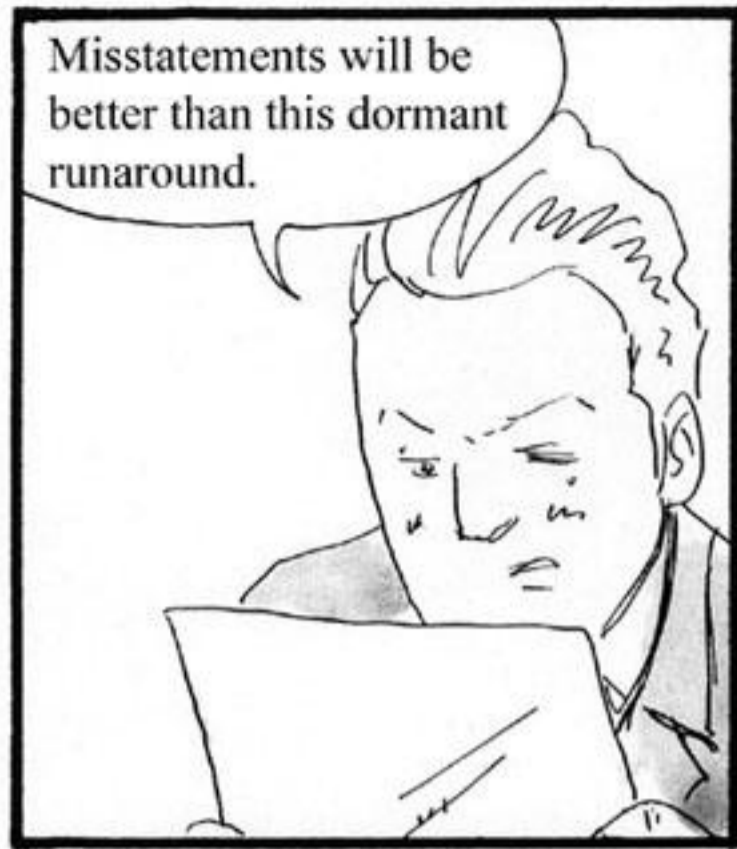

No Japs nor Chinks have good news.
What an opaque, awkward capital !
C'mmon, let's get out of this town,
now.

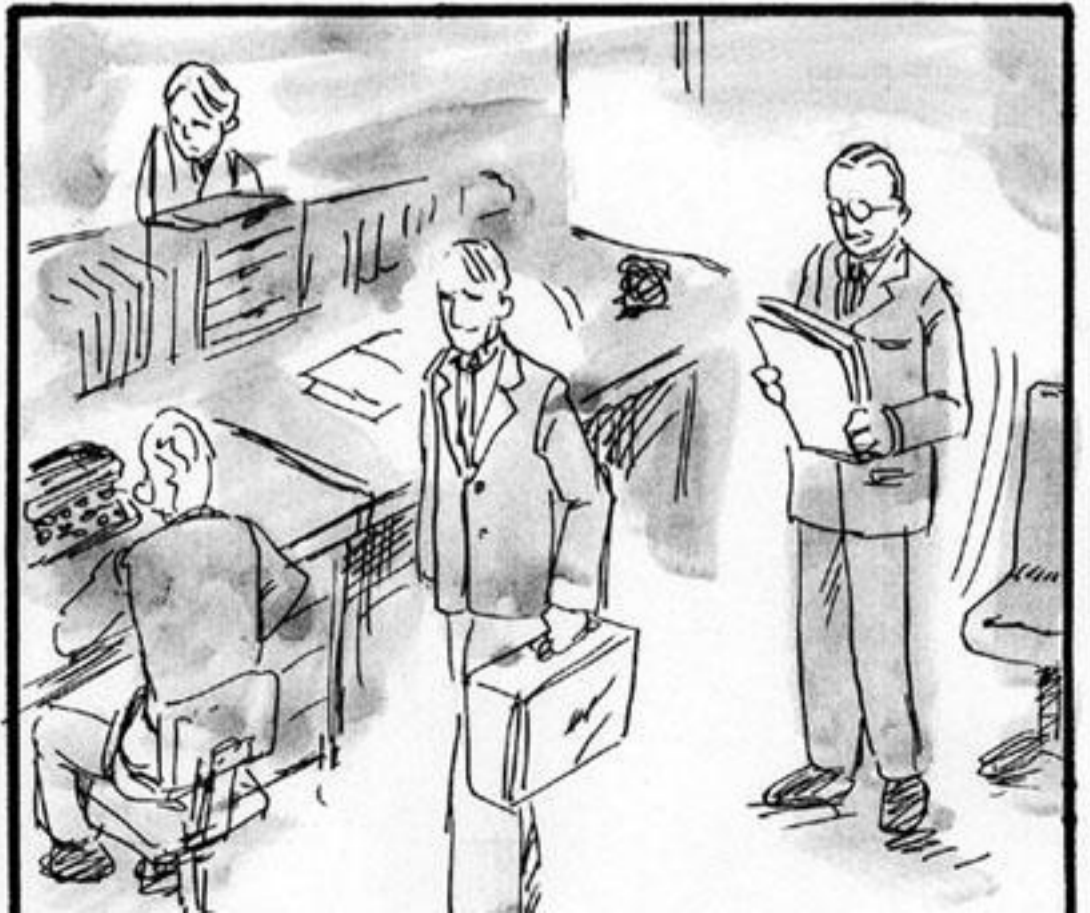

What can't be cared must be endured,
Bob. Seems it's the best day to depart from Nanking to Shanghai.

Misstatements will be better than this dormant runaround.

Doing nothing is doing ill.

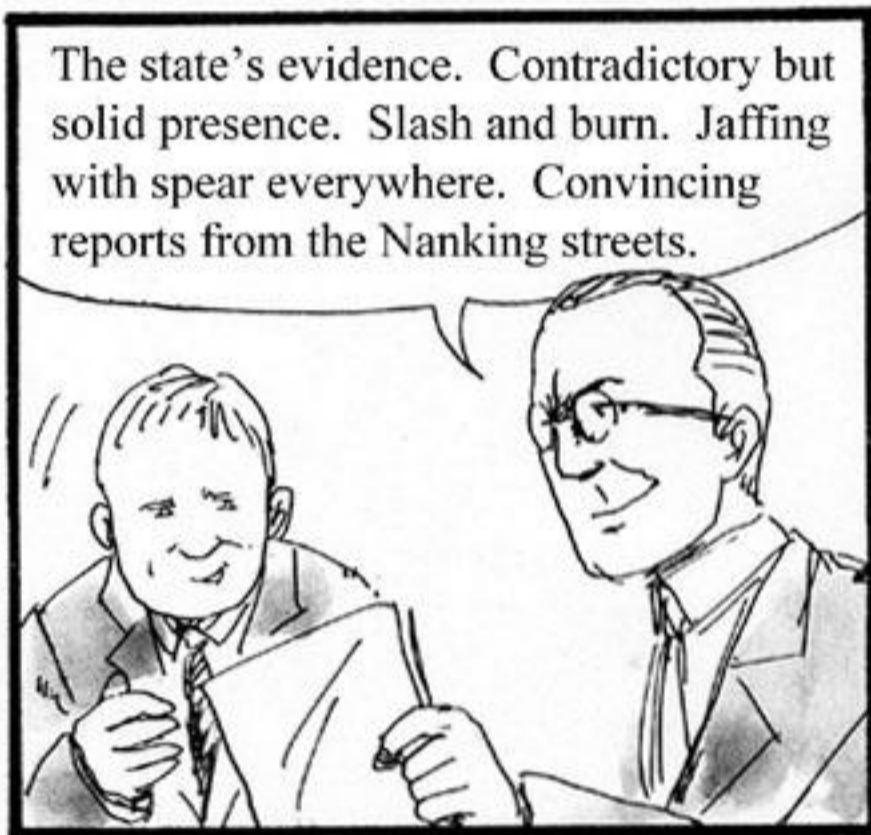

Gentlemen, I could offer a real infomation for a parting gift today. My sectreary typed those letters last night. You can trust me as your gazebo.

What scenery did you get, professor ?

The state's evidence. Contradictory but solid presence. Slash and burn. Jaffing with spear everywhere. Convincing reports from the Nanking streets.

Authentic ! It's exactly what I want to invoke. Thank you for your complicity, professor.
